

Sociology preparation work

Sociology is all about how society works. In the first year we look at family life and how the education system works. In the second year we look at religious beliefs and crime.

Some good preparation work would be to look at how the recent Coronavirus outbreak has affected all of these areas and using newspaper/social media/tv news reports write up a one-side A4 summary.

One area within the family could be how it has affected family life. What has changed? What has been the impact on parents, children and grandparents for example. One interesting task could be to interview elderly relatives that lived through the war years and afterwards when food was rationed to see how their experiences compare to the current situation.

Within education there have clearly been massive changes. How have families and schools dealt with the new situation?

How have religious activities been forced to change?

How has the pandemic affected crime?

There are no right or wrong answers to any of these questions so any observations will be useful!
